RHINOS PURPLE,

My sister says
I shouldn't color
Rhinos purple,
Hippos green.
She says
I shouldn't be so stupid,
Those are things
She's never seen.
But I don't care
What my sister says,
I don't care
What my sister's seen.
I will color
What I want to—
Rhinos purple,
Hippos green.

STOPPING BY WOODS ON A SNOWY EVENING

Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village, though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark, and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

GOING TO SCHOOL

From here to there
or anywhere
is longer in the morning.
It doesn't seem so far by blocks
but first I have to find some socks
that match.

I have to brush this and tie those
and tuck that.
There's a clock on the wall
ticking, "Hurry don't fall,"
as I run down the hall.
Well, I won't fall at all.

Out the door
down the block.
"Good morning tree,
hello there rock,"
(On my head the ticking clock).

I'm running
I'm walking
I watch a cat stalking a bird
through the bushes
but I'm on my way.
I know I'm not yet there
I never may get there with small stones for kicking
and weeds for picking.
That dog down the block
lobs a bark at the dog.

My math's in my pocket,
my pencil is here
in my hair where I put it
in back of my ear.

I tripped and dropped it.
It dropped and I kicked it.
I kicked it and stopped it.
It's near where?
There
here.

I get to the corner.
I stop at the corner.
The light at the corner
goes green with a wink.
The bell begins ringing
and I begin running.
I run
and it's ringing.
I made it...
I think.
